Rev. W. H. Kennedy Addresses New London Hibernians,

Rev. William H. Kennedy delivered the sermon at the vesper service at St. Joseph's church, New London, Sun-day evening. Rev. William C. Fitz-simons, pastor of the church, celebrated vespers.

The vesper service was arranged with special reference to St. Patrick's with special reference to St. Patrick's day and the sermon was appropriate to the occasion. Father Kennedy, who is a fluent speaker, praised the lesson which St. Patrick gave to the world in converting Ireland from paganism to Christianity without the shedding of martyr blood. He spoke of the need of such high ideals in America today and the principles of right and justice, given under the constitution, are to be protected with the lives of its citizens forever. The need of emulation izens forever. The need of emulation of the example of Ireland's patron saint in correcting social cyils of the day was apparent to the speaker.

Building Owner Testifies. James P. Shea, owner of the build James P. Shea, owner of the building at 45 Bank street, testified Pumerantz was a tenant of his on the day of the fire. He was excused after describing the stock in the store. William H. Bowker, who on Dec. 13 resided in the Lawrence R. Sheabuilding, said that in his apartments were 12 roomers, Mrs. Bowker and himself. The fire, he said, was after 12 o'clock on a Saturday night Mrs Bowker awoke witness, who saw the smoke. He got on pants and slippers and went downstairs to see where the fire was. Mrs. Bowker called firemen by telephone. The rear stairway, leading to the second floor, was burned. The front stairway was not burned. In nine years in which the Bowkers lived in the Shea building there had been other fires in Pumerantz's store. Told of Other Fires. Attorney Geary raised an objection on the ground of irrelevancy. Prosecuting Attorney Cronin claimed the question as tending to show intent. The question was allowed and witness said there were two other fires pre viously; that they happened so often he could not keep trace of them. In the fall of 1911 between the hours of 10 and 11 and in the spring of 1912 at about the same hours there were fires. Both times the Bowkers had to "hustle to get out and call the fire

Fire Adjuster Testifies. Alfred H. Murphy of Hartford, fire insurance adjuster for 14 years and in the business 22 years, testified that he adjusted losses in the San Francisco earthquake fires approximating $4,000,000. Pumerantz was insured with company witness represented and a proof of loss or a paper which wit-ness insisted 'purported to be a proof of loss, was shown. The document was offered as Exhibit A. The defense admitted that Pumerantz was insured in 13 companies. Witness said Pum-erantz was insured for $15,000. The rantz was insured for $15,000. claim on stock was $11,255,28 and on fixtures $2,386. The proof of loss, witness said, showed inventory of stock and fixtures on Jan. 1, 1913, stock sent back and stock on hand.

Made Claim for $11,255, Adjuster Murphy compiled a statement from Pumerantz's statement of its loss. This covered two years' purhases, return of goods, expenses and sales. Witness showed that by mul-tiplication, addition and subtraction Pumerants's own proof of loss showed that on Dec. 13, 1913 his stock and fixture value was approximately $5,207.54. His claim of loss against this is $11,255.28

Witness Murphy said Pumerantz made a statement in his presence to the effect that Pumerantz closed his the effect that Fumerantz closed his store from 5 to 15 minutes before 12 with his mother, sister and brother Ben and leaving them about a block.

At that time Pumerantz said he had two other fixes, one for which he collected $50 or $60 insurance and the other about $200. Pumerantz told witness that on the occasion of the last fire he was awak-ened by his brother, Ben, who told him of the fire.

Pumerantz Claimed Large Profits. Witness said Pumerantz said his mother went down stairs before the store closed. Pumerantz told witness he made more money in 1913 than in any previous year; sales and purchases were larger that year than any. To Attorney Geary the witness said by company had not paid its proportions. his company had not paid its propor-tion of the fire loss; the company was not loaning his assistance to the state. He lunched with state policemen of Tuesday; paid for his own lunch and did not know who paid for the police-men's lunch. Discussion of a nonwaiver agreement was engaged in for the announced purpose of showing ani-mosity of witness toward the defendant. He claimed the state pacted on their own initiative. ant.

Discussed Ratio of Profit Witness explained that he made his compilation of figures from Pumer-antz's figures "Just as though they were honest figures." There was a were honest figures." There was a discussion of profits in the clothing business. Witness said Pumerantz was told his estimate of 43 per cent. profit was unreasonable and he himself said 30 per cent, was all that could be figured for a profit. It was shown that 43 per cent. was the profit on the purchase price and 30 per cent. was the profit and the selling price.

was the profit and the selling price. Testimony of State Policeman. Theodore F. Downing, state police-ian, said Pumerantz in December old him that he closed the store about 1.15 on Dec. 13 and left on the 12 belock car for his home. His brother, Benny, telephoned him and he got up and came to the fire. In regard to the other fire Pumerantz told witness he collected $900 "smoke damage." Witness made inspections of the burned store. On the first inspection the store had not been cleaned. The rear of the building was blackened but not burned. A table beside the boiler was blistered, not burned. In front of the boiler for 25 or 30 feet from the sidewalk line the timbers were burned the Janitor Found Boiler All Right. John McCarthy, janitor of the Shea uilding, testified he was in the building at 10.45 and banked the fire. The boiler was all right then. It was tested in October. After looking at the fire he went through the building. The day previous to the fire he cleaned up the cellar. There was a cartload of boxes in the centre of the cellar. Pumeranty wanted to save the boxes, he told McCarthy, until after Christmas. After the fire McCarthy examined the fire and found it had burned where the boxes had been piled. An elevator at the sidewalk entrance was left by McCarthy about two and one-half feet from the floor with a barrel on it. Af-ter the fire McCarthy found the eleafor up and even with the sidewalk.
